BUDGET ESTIMATION WORKSHEET

BUDGET ESTIMATION WORKSHEET

Setting a budget can be one of the most challenging parts of a new-build, renovation, or room-maker project. After all, most clients are not often aware of all the pieces that must come together for a room to look and function at its best. Since there is a vast difference in pricing, depending on many factors, we have designed this exercise to help you figure out a reasonable budget range for your next design project. It is meant to give you a general idea of what you are comfortable spending on each item for your project. The final budget most likely will be different depending on add-on features and/ or upgrades.

HOW TO USE THIS WORKSHEET

In the empty boxes next to each item, give an estimate of what you think the item will cost - indicate a price for "Good", "Better", and "Best" options. "Good" which means decent quality but not necessarily unique; "Better" which means better quality with some custom options; and "Best" which means great quality and craftsmanship with custom options.

Each item may require multiple pieces (for example, you may need 2 sofas, so be sure to price both. For items like pillows, accessories and window treatments - write the amount of what you think it will cost for the entire room (by checking out some of your favorite online retailers).

Total all your estimates for each category and that should give you a good idea of what you can expect to invest in your upcoming interior design project. We encourage you to research a bit to see what some of these items cost based on the quality your looking for.

Please note that when you hire us, we will define your actual design budget later on in the process after your final selections are made. This is simply a guide to help you determine a budget range. Items such as taxes, labor, delivery, & shipping are not included; but will add to the budget.

Make copies of the blank "budget Estimation Worksheet" and do this exercise for other areas in your home. We have included our "Furniture Budget Ranges" worksheet to help guide you along. Plus, we have provided you an example to give you an idea of how to use this worksheet. Based on the example(s) included your budget range for your living room project is $25,000 to $100,000 plus design fees, delivery fees, taxes, subcontractor fees, etc.
